OFFICERS OF MARISCHAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY.

CHANCELLORS.¹

1593. George Keith, fifth Earl Marischal, Baron Keith and Altrie.

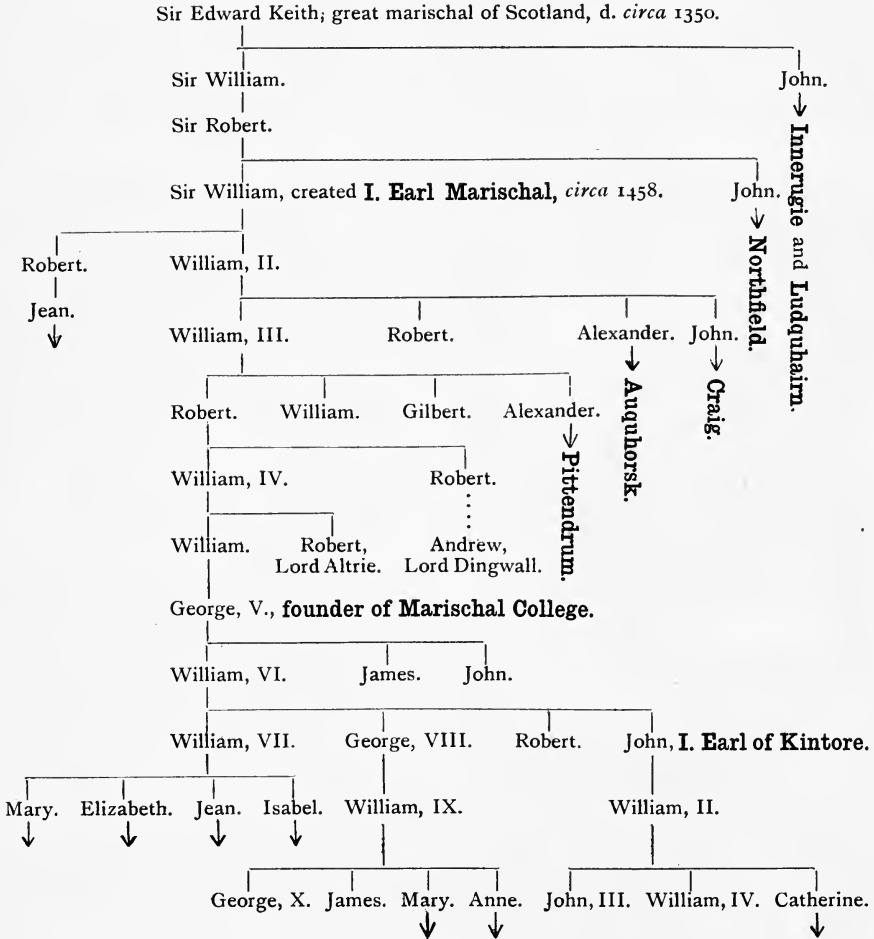

Married, 1st, Margaret, dau. of Alexander, fifth Baron Home, with issue, William, sixth Earl, Anne (m. William, second Earl of Morton), Margaret (m. Sir Robert Arbuthnot): and, 2nd, Margaret, dau. of James, sixth Baron Ogilvie, with issue, James and John, who both died without legitimate male issue. Died 2nd April, 1623. Portrait after Jamesone in possession of University, reproduced in Vol. I., and in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll. (Dict. Nat. Biog. Douglas' Peerage. G. E. C.'s Complete Peerage. See also Ogston's Oratio funebris in obitum Georgii, etc., Abred., 1623. Lachrymae Academiae Marischallanae sub obitum Georgii, etc., Abred., 1623. Smith's Oratio in qua Acad. Marisch. Maecenates commemorantur, Abred., 1702. Delit. Poet. Scot., II., 314. The editor has been unable to trace a copy of Thomas Cargill's "Verse in Latin in commendatioune of my Lord Marischeall for erecking the new College in Aberdeen," printed for the Aberdeen Town Council in 1593. Notes and Queries, 7, I., 129.)

1623. William Keith, sixth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of John, seventh Earl of Mar, with issue, William, seventh Earl; George, eighth Earl; Robert, d. unm.; John, first Earl of Kintore; Mary (m. John, Lord Kinpont); Jean (m. Alexander, Lord Pitsligo), and Anne. Died 28th October, 1635. Portrait by Jamesone in possession of Major the Hon. Robert Baillie-Hamilton, reproduced in Vol. I. (Dict.

“IN OBITUM ILLUSTRISSIMI WILHELMI KETHI COMITIS MARESCHALLANI.

“ Tot modo terrarum dominus, nunc KETHUS Olympum
 Possidet et superi jugera vasta soli.
 Marmoreas fugiens et dignas regibus arces,
 Aurea nunc coeli, cum Iove, tecta colit.
 Et quos audierat saeculis egisse triumphos
 Bis tribus, ingentes hic prope cernit avos.
 Quemque clientelis stipatum vidimus, astra
 Nunc super, aligero cingitur ille choro.
 Et satur ambrosia est et vivit nectare Divum,
 Cui latices tellus ante dapesque dedit.
 Si bona praeteritis confers praesentia, KETHUS
 Dum foret in terris, pauper inopsque fuit.
 Si tamen ingenii dotes, animique potentis
 Aurea pensentur munera, dives erat.

“ ALIUD.

“ Ipse tua radians et avita luce coruscus,
 Gentis Hyperboreae gloria, KETHE, jaces.
 Illustris tibi vita fuit, mors aemula vitae est,
 Illa tuis meritis, conjugis ista nitet.
 Te Dea complexa est morientem mollibus ulnis,
 Fovit et ambrosio frigida colla sinu :
 Ore legens animam, labris infudit amomum,
 Fixit et Idaliis oscula plena rosis.
 Et sibi sidereos lachrymis suffudit ocellos,
 Et clausit nivea lumina functa manu.
 Si possent gelido Superi succumbere letho,
 Sic ego crediderim Numina velle mori.

“ ALIUD.

“ KETHE soli coelique decus, non unius uxor
 Virtutis specimen, te moriente, dedit.
 Luminibus lachrymas libavit et oscula labris,
 Dextraque palpebram clausit utramque manus.
 Luminibus luctum, labris testatur amorem,
 Dextra manus fortem monstrat et esse piam.

“ Arth. Johnstonus, M.D.”

1635. William Keith, seventh Earl Marischal.

Married, 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of George, third Earl of Winton, with issue, William (d. in inf.), Mary, (m. Sir James Hope of Hopetoun), Elizabeth (m. Robert, second Viscount Arbuthnott), Jean (m. George, third Baron Banff), Isabel (m. Sir Edward Turner, bart.): 2nd, Anne, dau. of Robert, eighth Earl of Morton. Died 1661. (Dict. Nat. Biog. G. E. C. The Graduation Theses of 1626 are dedicated "Comiti de Keth, optimaæ spei adolescenti"; those of 1634, "illustr. Com. Maresch. filio natu maximo, unicis nostrarum musarum deliciis"; those of 1658, "Comiti Marischallo, musarum fautori propensissimo". He was a bajan in 1631, infra.)

1661.¹ George Keith, eighth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of George, second Earl of Kinnoul, with issue, William, ninth Earl. Died 1694. (Dedication to Theses of 1669 and 1673. G. E. C.)

1694. William Keith, ninth Earl Marischal.

Married, Mary, dau. of James, fourth Earl of Perth, with issue, George, tenth Earl; James, Marshal Keith, Mary (m. John, sixth Earl of Wigton), Anne (m. Alexander, sixth Earl of Galloway). Died 27th May, 1712. (G. E. C. Bajan in 1676, infra. Founded in 1701 the professorship of Medicine: see Vol. I., p. 381.)

1712. George Keith, tenth and last Earl Marischal.

Attainted 1715-16; died (unmarried) at Potsdam, 28th May, 1778. Two portraits in possession of University. (Dict. Nat. Biog. Jacobite Attempt of 1719, Edin., 1895. The Theses of 1708 are dedicated "domino de Keith, celsissimi ac magnanimi herois D. Gulielmi Comititis Marischalli filio primogenito"; those of 1714, "potentissimo heroi comiti Marischallo". The last of the Earls graduated M.A. of his ancestral college in 1712, his younger brother, James, afterwards Marshal Keith, taking the same degree three years later: infra. As to the present representatives of the Earls Marischal, compare the genealogical trees on pp. 4, 87, with the articles, "The heirs of the Keiths," in Scottish Notes and Queries for May, 1894, and September, 1896, where many authorities are quoted; and with G. E. C.'s Complete Peerage.)

On the attainder of the Earls Marischal, their rights of College patronage passed to the Crown, but the Commissions of Visitation in 1716 and 1717 apparently made no provision for the appointment of a Chancellor. In 1727 we find the College petitioning King George II. to nominate as Chancellor his Majesty's second son, William, aged six, who had been created Duke of Cumberland a month before the date of the Petition.

¹ On 6th January, 1643, George, second Marquis of Huntly, was elected Chancellor of King Charles' University (Vol. I., p. 255); but the Marischal College members absented themselves from the meeting, and refused to recognise the election. (Off. and Grad. of King's Coll., p. 4.)

“Unto the King’s Most Excellent Majesty,

“The most humble Petition and Address of the Rector, Principal, Professors and Masters of His Majesty’s Marischall University of Aberdeen.

“May it please Your Majesty.

“We, Your Majesty’s most dutyfull and loyal subjects, haveing the great honour above all other Universitys in the Nation to be immediately under your Royal Patronage, humbly beg leave to represent that this Your Majesty’s University is at great loss by the want of a Chancelour. Wherefor, if it be agreeable to Your Majesty’s Royal Pleasure, we earnestly and unanimously intreat that Your Majesty our Royal Patron would be graciously pleas’d to nominate and constitute His Royal Highness, WILLIAM, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, Chancelour of this Your University; which will not only signaly honour, but greatly tend to the flourishing thereof. And in evidence of our hearty concurrence, so farr as we are interested, we have presum’d to transmitt a most unanimous commission unto His Royal Highness.

“May God, who has in great mercy to these Kingdoms given Your Majesty peaceable possession of the throne of Your Royal Ancestors, greatly prosper and long preserve Your Majesty with your Royal Consort our Gracious Queen, and all the Royal Branches of Your August Family; by which, under God, the great happyness of these Kingdoms can only be secur’d and transmitted to posterity.

“Given at Your Majesty’s College Marischal of Aberdeen, the twenty-eighth day of August, in the first year of Your Majesty’s Reign.”

“Commission to his highness, William, Duke of Cumberland.

“We, the Rector, Principal, Professors, and Masters of the Marischal University of Aberdeen, takeing into our consideration the great loss this University is at by the want of a Chancelour, and how much it will tend to the honour and flourishing of the same, that some honourable and proper person were elected into the said office, we all did and hereby doe unanimously nominate and elect His Royal Highness the High and Mighty Prince, WILLIAM, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND, Chancelour of this University, which office we most humbly and earnestly intreat His Royal Highness may accept of. And by the tenor of these presents we declare that His Royal Highness shall from henceforth have and enjoy all powers, jurisdiction, and honours which any Chancelour of this University by the Foundation Charter had or might in times past have enjoy’d and exercis’d. Promiseing all subjection and obedience unto His Royal Highness due on our part. In Wittness whereof these present letters haveing the strength of a publick instrument are inscrib’d by us at his Majesty’s Marischall College of Aberdeen, this twenty-ninth day of August, one thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven years, and of His Majesty’s reign the first year. And for further confirmation we have hereunto appended the great seal of this University.

[Signed] “Patt. Duff, Rector.

“Tho. Blackwell, Principal.

“Matthew Mackaile, Med. Professor.

“Dav. Verner, P.P.

“Daniel Gordon, P.P.

“Wm. Duff, P.P.”

(Marischal College Charter Chest, "Chancellors," 1, 2. The second paper is endorsed:—"This Commission to be in Latine, wrote on parchment and embellish in due form".)

The result of this petition is unknown. The Duke became in 1746 Chancellor of St. Andrews. Kennedy (Annals of Aberdeen, Vol. II., p. 118) gives the Duke of Cumberland as elected Chancellor in 1747, but Kennedy's dates are notoriously inaccurate. See list of Regents, p. 31.

17 ? Archibald Campbell, Earl of Ilay (third Duke of Argyll).

The date of election is not recorded. The duke, an alumnus of the Universities of Glasgow and Utrecht, was created Earl of Ilay in 1706, and succeeded his brother, John, in the dukedom in 1743. In 1716 he was chosen Chancellor of King's College, but "upon weighty motives" did not accept (Off. and Grad., p. 5). Kennedy gives John, Duke of Argyll, as Chancellor in 1754, but his names are only less inaccurate than his dates. Died 15th April, 1761. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1761. John Stuart, third Earl of Bute.

Elected, 25th April, by the Principal and Masters, "taking into consideration that the office of Chancellor of this University is vacant by the death of his Grace the Duke of Argyle". (Minute in new Rectorial Book.) He accepts, 10th August: Latin diploma entered in Minute. ("Writing diploma, £5 5s.; silver seal box, £1 14s.; vellum, 10s. 6d." Accounts.) Benefactor to the Library (Vol. I., p. 454), and to the Observatory (Vol., I., p. 448). A promise to give Natural History specimens to the Museum is mentioned in the Aberdeen Journal of 6th Dec., 1784. Portrait in possession of University: copy after Ramsay by William Mossman in 1763. (£16 16s., with £10 10s. for frame. Accounts.) Died 10th March, 1792. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1793. David Murray, second Earl of Mansfield.

B.A., Oxon., 1748; D.C.L., 1793. Elected 19th April. (Rect. Book: Diploma, £2 2s.) Died 1st Sept., 1796. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1796. William Eden, first Baron Auckland.

M.A., Oxon., 1768. Elected 7th November. (Rect. Book: Diploma, £1 1s.) "Lord Auckland, an English nobleman, who had never even visited Scotland, and was not educated there, was chosen Chancellor solely at the instigation of the Principal, Dr. Brown, whose patron he was, and who had got acquainted with him when holding his Utrecht situation, at which time Auckland was ambassador to the States. The proper Chancellor to have been chosen in 1796 was the Marquis of Huntly, as Professor Copland proposed, and never voted for Lord Auckland. In going after Court patronage, the College fell into a mistake. All the correspondence passed between the Chancellor and Dr. Brown, in letters often not seen by the Faculty. Hence the necessity of the following order: '1811, May 31. Principal Brown to read to the Faculty all letters which he writes in their name, and to lodge copies in the letter book.'—Min." (Knight.) Died 28th May, 1814. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1814. George Gordon, eighth Marquis of Huntly.

Record in Faculty Minute Book, 19th July. Had been called to House of Lords in his father's barony of Gordon, 1807; succeeded as fifth and last Duke of Gordon, 1827. Installed as Chancellor, 22nd December, 1815. (Kennedy's Annals, II., 90. Nobilissimi viri Georgii Marchionis de Huntly Inaugurandi formula atque modus; praecipue Oratio habita a Gulielmo Laurentio Brown, praefecto, Abred., 1816. Ode in Aberdeen Journal, 27th Dec., 1815.) Died 25th May, 1836, when the dukedom became extinct. (Min., 30th June; Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1836. Charles Gordon, fifth Duke of Richmond and Lennox.

Record in Faculty Minute Book, 30th June; installed 2nd Sept. On the union of King's and Marischal Colleges became joint Chancellor (with fourth Earl of Aberdeen) of the University of Aberdeen, 15th Sept., 1860; died 21st October, 1860. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

RECTORS AND DEANS OF FACULTY.¹

1598. Peter Blackburn, the elder, minister of Aberdeen, Dean of Faculty.

Signs feu charter of date 5th Sept., 1598 (Vol. I., p. 76).

1619. Patrick Dun, doctor of medicine, Rector; William Forbes, doctor of divinity, D. of F.

Present at visitation of the College, 31st December, when an ordinance was made "that the College fees payable by the students to the regents should be conform as they were appointed at a visitation in the King's College, viz.,

"The definition of the Nations given in the Charter does not, in some respects, correspond to what has been long followed in practice. The nation to which foreigners are to be assigned is not mentioned; it has been the custom to add them to the Angusians, or those born south of the Carn o' Month. The word diocesis employed in the Charter evidently indicates the true division. The Abredonensis diocesis is divided into the Marriensis and Buchanensis. Marriensis has Garioch added to it, and comprehends not only the tract between the Dee and the Don, but also Alford, Strathdon, and Garioch, or all to the south of Formartin; it also includes the parishes of Strachan, Banchory-Ternan, Banchory-Devenick, and Maryculter, in the county of Kincardine, but in the diocese of Aberdeen. Buchanensis ought to include Buchan, Formartin, and Strathbogie, or those parts of the Counties of Aberdeen and Banff lying between the Deveron on the West and North, and Mar and Garioch on the South, exclusive of all that part of Scotland not included in the two foregoing divisions, lying to the North of the Mons Grampius (Carn o' Month), which contains the Moraviensis. But as the parishes of Huntly, Gartly, Rhynie and Essie, Glass, and Cairnie were not within the diocese of Aberdeen, they ought to be included in the Moraviensis; and Formartin is by custom taken in with Mar, Buchan being viewed as having the Ythan for its Southern boundary." (Knight, circa 1840.)

twenty merks for the sons of noblemen and barons, ten pound for the sons of other gentlemen, and the bursars and poor scholars to be taught gratis". (Memorials relating to Union of Colleges, Aberd., 1755, p. 24.) Dun had been Professor of Logic in 1610, and became Principal in 1621, infra. Forbes had been Professor of Logic in 1601, and became Principal in 1620, infra.

1625. William Forbes, Rector.

Graduation Theses dedicated to him in this capacity, infra.

1632. William Forbes ; John Forbes, doctor, D. of F.

Sign a deed, 14th April, constituting Principal Dun common procurator of the College (Ch. Ch. "Rectors," 2.) The D. of F. is probably the contemporary Professor of Divinity at King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 68.)

1642. William Guild.

Elected "Rector of King Charles' Universitie of Aberdeen," 11th Nov. (Off. and Grad., p. 10.)

1643. William Guild.

Re-elected 23rd November.

1648. David Lindsay.

Signs as Rector a discharge of Marischal College accounts. Minister of Belhelvie. Seems to have been Rector of King's College, 1645-50. (Off. and Grad., p. 11.) The Caroline Union, though not referred to in the elections, doubtless subsisted during that period.

1664. Arthur Rose ; Lewis Gordon, M.D., D. of F.

This being the first election recorded in the old Rectorial Minute Book (part of Album I.), the minutes are quoted verbatim.

"Att Aberdeene the aughteint day of October 1 J^m vic threescore foure yeares

The Rector gave £50 for prize books.
1824. Joseph Hume, M.P. ; Hugh Lumsden, D. of F.

Hume was M.D. of 1799.
1825. Joseph Hume, M.P. ; Hugh Lumsden, D. of F.
Assessors : as last year. On 14th November the Rector held a Court (the first since 1738), summoned by public advertisement, to enquire into "irregularities and abuses . . . in some departments of the College, prejudicial to the interests of the students". Assessors: Alexander Bannerman, Thomas Gordon of Cairness, Thomas Burnett, advocate, Aberdeen; John Thurburn of Murtle. No Rector. Mar and Buchan voted for Sir James McGrigor, Angus and Moray for Joseph Hume. There being no precedent or rule in the Charter, the whole case was referred to the Commissioners of Visitation then sitting. (Evidence, Vol. IV., pp. 298-301.) The Commissioners recommended a new election, but declined to grant a warrant for holding this on any day other than March 1. On the advice of the Chancellor no new election was held. (Coll. Minutes, Sept. 7, Nov. 7, Dec. 25.) The election proceedings of 1829 were very disorderly. "During nearly an hour amid great clamour and noises of various kinds, short speeches were made by different students. . . . An attempt was made by a considerable number of the students to force their way into the hall where the Senatus were sitting; which attempt was repelled by the Professors." (Minutes.) Hume claimed the right as Rector of the preceding year to have a casting vote, which he proposed to give to his opponent, but the Senatus unanimously disallowed this. 1834. Alexander Bannerman, M.P. ; James Blaikie, lord provost, D. of F.
Assessors : James Blaikie, Thomas Bannerman, Dean of Guild ; Benjamin Williamson, surgeon ; Robert Abercrombie, merchant. Angry protests against the action of Professors Brown and Lizars, who, when the vote in the Angus Nation was stated to be 17 to 16 in favour of the procurator representing Sir John Herschel, proffered their votes on the side of the minority, although it never was "the custom for professors to vote at the Rectorial elections, the only exception being that of one professor who had given in his suffrage once or twice several years ago".

- " BRIGHTON, Tuesday Evening, 20th February, 1849.
- " SIR,—I beg to assure you that I am very sensible of the feeling which has induced you to propose me as a candidate for the Lord Rectorship of your College, and that I feel much beholden to you for that mark of your regard and consideration.
- " But, in reply to your note in which you do me the favour to ask my consent to this nomination, I am constrained to say, without any reservation whatever, that I do not aspire to the high honour in question, and that I must entreat you to withdraw my name at my express desire. I take the earliest opportunity in my power of making this communication to you ; but my absence from town for a week past, and my absence from this place during this day, have combined to prevent my answering your letter sooner. It was forwarded here this morning. I am, Sir, yours faithfully and obliged, “ LONDON, 22 feby, 1850.
- " CHARLES DICKENS."

“ 5 CHEYNE ROW, CHELSEA,

“ GENTLEMEN,—Your announcement very much surprised me, not surely in an unpleasant way, and I beg in the meantime to thank you very cordially, you and my other young Friends in Aberdeen, for the honour you are doing me. The election to a merely formal office, I suppose, may go in this way or that, without momentous consequences; but the fact that ingenuous young souls in your University, in poor old Scotland far away, are loyally disposed to me, and willing to testify that feeling by such methods as they have—this is already a possession, of a valuable and to me almost of an affecting nature, which I shall not have to part with. With the election itself I must not in the least interfere, for or against. In respect of personally visiting Aberdeen, too, I am constrained to say that travelling is at all times very untowardly to me, and that at present there are some special causes rather detaining me here;—on the whole, that if there be no real duty, but only a formal or ceremonial one, to be done in Aberdeen, I had much better not come, but that if there do appear some real fraction of duty to be done, in the event of my election, I will certainly make an effort to come. More I cannot say at present. And so with many thanks and kind regards, I remain, Gentlemen, your most obed^t

“ T. CARLYLE.

At the election for D. of F., Alexander Thomson was proposed, and being present claimed a right not only to vote for himself, but to act as chairman of the meeting, and to declare himself elected. This claim was afterwards withdrawn. The Rectorial Address, delivered 17th March, was printed at Aberdeen, 1859.

He was remarkably diligent and besides keeping his hours strictly, he frequently gave public lectures, where students of divinity and physic, as well as the other masters attended. The author . . . commends in highflown terms his diligence in teaching, his modesty, his wisdom, his acuteness in disputation and above all his religious turn of mind" (Gordon). ¹ For duties and method of election, see Vol. I., p. 42.

1616. Andrew Aedie.

On Gray's death, the Town Council suggested two names to the Earl Marischal, Patrick Sands (then a regent in Edinburgh), and Alexander Home; and the former was nominated (Vol. I., pp. 167-8), but apparently did not accept, as Aedie is styled Principal on 15th March, 1616, "recommended by the King to the Earl Marshal" (Gordon). Demitted office 1619. Author of Pastoria in decem distributa eclogas, Dantisc., 1610; Tractatus de noctuambulonum ingenio, Dantisc., 1612; Clavis philosophiae moralis, Oppenh., 1614. Mr. Andrew Ramsay, minister at Edinburgh, was "socht" by the Earl Marischal, but his "transplantatioun was altogidder refuissit". Forbes had been a regent, infra. He demitted office in 1621, was Rector in 1632, and in 1634 became first bishop of Edinburgh. Author of Considerationes modestae, various edns. Portrait by Jamesone in possession of University, reproduced in Wodrow's Biog. Coll., ed. Lippe. Arms on old ceiling: Azure, three bear's heads coupé argent. (Dict. Nat. Biog.)

1621. Patrick Dun.

M.D., Basil. (Kennedy); "a verie famous professor in Germanie" (Buik of Reg.). Previously regent, infra, rector, supra; and mediciner at King's Coll. (Off. and Grad., p. 35). A native of Aberdeen (son of umquhile Andrew Dun, burgess), Dun was the first lay principal. A benefactor of the College (Vol. I., p. 231, where his arms, from the ceiling, are given). Died circa 1649. Author of Themata medica de dolore colico, Basil., 1607; and editor of Duncan Liddell's Ars conservandi sanitatem, Aberd., 1651. 1678, Nov. 21. Robert Paterson.

Previously regent and librarian, infra. The latter office, then the best paid in the College, he continued to hold (Vol. I., p. 204). His nomination by the Earl Marischal to the principalship, vacant "throw Master James Leslie his removal from the said charge," is the first entry in the Register of Presentations. Children: Mr. David, Robert, Elisabeth, Margrat, Agnes, Mary, Issobell, Cathren. (Poll Book.) 1717, Sept. 30. Thomas Blackwell.

D.D. Previously professor of Divinity, infra, and minister of Grey Friars Church, Aberdeen, which offices he retained, being the only professor not ejected by the Commission of Visitation. His appointment to the principalship was the first nomination by the Crown, the Earl Marischal forfeiting his rights of patronage with his title. Died 1728. Reg.*, lxi., 234, 350). "Principal Blackwell brought on a consumptive habit by great abstemiousness and died at Edinburgh on his way to London, 8th March, 1757, in his 56th year. . . . His religious opinions were said to be inclined to heretical. . . . His nickname among the students 'Ratio profana'" (Knight). His widow was a benefactor (Vol. I., p. 461). 1757, April 19. Robert Pollock.

D.D., 1753. Previously Professor of Divinity, infra, and minister of Grey Friars, which offices he retained. Died 1759. Had married, 1747, Elizabeth, daughter of Provost Alex. Robertson of Glasgowgo. Portraits of himself and his wife in possession of University.

REGENTS.¹

16 ? Patrick Gray.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs assedations to James Menzies, 4th Sept., 1601; and to Alexander Molleson, 14th September, 1601. (Buik of Reg.)² Brother of Principal Gilbert Gray. (Dedication to Theses of 1673, infra.)

1602.³ William Forbes.

Not in Kennedy's list. Stated in Sydsersf's Life to have been appointed Professor of Logic (i.e., teacher of the Semi class) soon after his graduation in 1601, and to have taught for four sessions. Mentioned in Aberdeen Presbytery Records, 1st November, 1605; and in Principal Gilbert Gray's Rental of 1606. (Vol. I., p. 107.) Afterwards Principal, p. 28.

1603. Thomas Reid.

Not in Kennedy's list. Demits office of teacher in Grammar School on appointment as Regent, 12th October, 1603. (T. C. Reg., xli., 415.) Afterwards Secretary "for the Latine tongue" to James VI., and a benefactor to the College Library. (Vol. I., p. 194.) Portrait in possession of the University is reproduced in Vol. I., and in the great window, Mitchell Hall, Mar. Coll. A detailed list of Reid's writings will be found in the present editor's notice in Dict. Nat. Biog. See also Scottish N. and Q., IX., 145, 161.

¹ Three in number by the Foundation Charter (Vol. I., p. 42); a fourth was added in 1620, when the Principal ceased to teach the highest class (p. 186). Originally the regents were professors in the modern sense (p. 64), but this system was abandoned about 1642. (Cf. Off. and Grad., p. 315.) It was, however, resumed in 1753, infra. No record of presentation to regencies is extant before 1679: the earlier names have been collected from various sources, and the list is obviously imperfect. Kennedy gives 29 regents, "with the dates of their several admissions," from 1593 to 1676, but at least 25 of his 29 dates are wrong! A table showing the sequence of teaching is attempted in the Appendix.

² When a name is stated to appear anywhere, what is implied is that it is mentioned as being that of a Regent.

³ "[Andrew] Young, having graduated in Edinburgh, had gone to serve as regent in Marischal College, which was always a good School of Mathematics. . . . He came back to Edinburgh as regent in 1601." Sir Alexander Grant (Story of the Univ. of Edinb., II., 293), quoting from Professor Chrystal's Inaugural Address. Dr. Chrystal writes that he cannot recall his authority for this statement. "Marischal" is probably a slip for "King's". (Cf. Off. and Grad., p. 53.)

- 16 ? Andrew Keith.
Not in Kennedy's list. Mentioned in Reg. Priv. Coun., Vol. VII., p. 677, 10th June, 1607.
- 16 ? Patrick Dun.
Not in Kennedy's list. Mentioned, 1610, as Professor of Logic in MS. C² 3. 70, University Library. Probably succeeded Forbes in his chair, as he afterwards (1621) did in the Principalship, p. 28.
- 16 ? William Gray.
Not in Kennedy's list. Signs assedation to John Leslie, 13th November, 1613. (Buik of Reg.) Bajan, 1605.
- 16 ? Peter Blackburn.
Mentioned in T. C. Reg., xlvi., 487, 15th March, 1616, together with John Ross and Adam Reid. Kennedy gives Peter Blackburn, John Row, and David Reid as regents in 1593. This is manifestly a group of blunders. (Cf. Kennedy's MS. Index to the T. C. Reg., s.v. "College".) Peter Blackburn, afterwards Bishop of Aberdeen, signs the Foundation Charter as a witness in 1593, and is Dean of Faculty in 1598, p. 10, but there is no proof that he acted as Regent. He died 14th June, 1616. Author (acc. to Scott's Fasti) of a Treatise against James Gordon the Jesuit. The Regent of 1616 seems to have been his son (Spald. Club Misc., Vol. V., p. 140; and Retours of Services of Heirs, 17th July, 1616), who appears as a Semi of 1605, and died in 1619. (Retours, 30th November, 1619.)
- 16 ? Adam Reid.
Ut supra. Given by Kennedy under 1619, in which year he was promoted from a regency to be Minister of Methlic. He was younger brother of Secretary Reid above mentioned. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1609.
- 16 ? John Ross.
Ut supra; and signs appointment of a Liddell Bursar, 3rd June, 1616. (Buik of Reg.) Semi, 1605.
1616. John Gordon.
Not in Kennedy's list. Must have succeeded Blackburn, as (together with John Ross and Adam Reid) he signs assedation to Patrick Symmers, December, 1616. See also letter from the laird of Drum. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Bursaries," XXIII., 1.) Mentioned (with Reid) in precept of warning against Menzies, 3rd April, 1617; and (with Reid and Massie) in decret against Menzies, 29th June, 1619. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. Mass II., Nos. 42, 47.) Bajan, 1609.
- 16 ? George Chalmers.
"Mr. George Chalmers, Minister at Dumbennan, burges of this burght, and sumtyme one of the Ministers thairof and regent in the said College." (T. C. Reg., xlix., 418, 27th October, 1619.) Kennedy, misinterpreting this entry, gives George Chalmers as regent in 1619. It is remarkable that no such name occurs in the list of incumbents of Aberdeen charges given in Scott's Fasti. (Cf. P. H. Chalmers' Mem. of Information.)

16 ? Andrew Massie.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1623, but is mentioned in decret against Menzies, 1619. Signs as "Logicae Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Semi class), two Epitaphs in the Lachrymae sub Obitum Georgii Comitiss Mariscalli, Abred., 1623; and 6th April, 1626 (together with Ogston, Sibbald, and Wedderburn), an assedation to David Anderson. (Buik of Reg.) Andrew Massie is named as Oeconomus in a Burgh Court Decree of 19th February, 1622. By the Foundation Charter the Oeconomus was an official distinct from the Regents. James Forbes of Tulliboy was appointed first Oeconomus, 18th June, 1593. (T. C. Reg., xxxiv., 854.) Massie and Sibbald are made burgesses, "ex gratia," 25th Oct., 1623. (New Spald. Cl. Misc., I.) Bajan, 1610.

1619. William Ogston.

Not in Kennedy's list. Appointed in 1619, as in 1626, when he is transferred to the Semi class, it is stated that he has taught the Tertians "thir sewin yeeris bygane". In the latter year (apparently succeeding Andrew Massie), he received a presentation to the Logic professorship, "the key of the whole College and the coursse throf verie long and thairfoir requyring ane learned diligent and cairfull maister to teach the same . . . quhairin if he should be found to be deficient and after due admon^onis not amending then and in that caice the said Mr. William to be bound . . . to demit the said second class absolutelie and to tak him to the third class". (Min. of Admission, 25th October, 1626. Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Professorships," No. 1.) Designated "Philosophiae Moralis Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Tertian class) on the title-page of his Oratio Funebris in Obitum Georgii Mariscalli Comitiss, Abred., 1623; and 6th April, 1626, signs the assedation to David Anderson. Promoted to be minister of Hailes, 1635. (Hist. of Ogston Families.) Semi, 1605. D.D.

1620. James Sibbald.

M.A., 1618. Signs as "Philosophiae Naturalis Professor," an Epitaph in the Lachrymae, also the assedation to David Anderson, 1626. The Professor of Natural Philosophy taught the Magistrand class, and Sibbald was the first holder of the office of fourth regent, instituted 1st March, 1620, when the newly appointed Principal, William Forbes, was relieved from the duty of teaching. Kennedy gives 1619 as the date of Sibbald's appointment, but this is certainly wrong. Graduation theses maintained under his presidency are extant for the years 1623 (Abd. Univ. Libr.), 1625 (Bodl.), 1626 (Bodl.). In the last of these years he was appointed one of the Ministers of Aberdeen. B.D., King's Coll., 1627; D.D., 1628. Sibbald was one of the "Aberdeen Doctors". In addition to his graduation theses, he contributed a Sermon to Forbes' Funerals and wrote Diverse Select Sermons, printed posthumously at Aberdeen in 1658. (Scott's Fasti; Forbes' Funerals, ed. 1845.)

16 ? William Wedderburn.

Signs as "Graecarum Literarum Professor" (i.e., teacher of the Bajan class), verses in the Lachrymae and the Theses of 1623; also the assedation to David Anderson, 1626. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Bethelny, not later than 1633. (Scott's Fasti.) He was brother of David Wedderburn, the Rector of the Grammar School (Abd. and Bff. Coll., p. 60), and Alexander Wedderburn.

1626. John Seton.

M.A., 1616. Succeeded Sibbald in 1626 (Kennedy says 1636) as Professor of Natural Philosophy. As such, signs (together with Gordon, Aidie, and Ray) a Rectorial minute, 14th April, 1632 (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Rectors," 2); and (with the same three) is mentioned in a summons raised by Sir A. Irvine of Drum, 1633. Graduation theses maintained under his presidency are extant for the years 1627 (Bodl.), 1630 (Bodl.), 1631 (Abd.), 1634 (Bodl.), 1637 (Bodl.). Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Kemnay, not later than 1641. (Scott's Fasti.)

16 ? Hugh Gordon.

M.A., 1623. Not in Kennedy's list. Writes assedation to A. Burnet, 12th July, 1630. (Buik of Reg.) Signs as Professor of Logic the Rectorial minute, and is mentioned in summons ut supra. See also Diary of Alexander Jaffray, p. 15.

163 ? William Aidie.

M.A., 1625. Not in Kennedy's list. Succeeded Wedderburn. Signs as Professor of Greek the Rectorial minute; also two Epitaphs in the Lachrymae in Obitum Wilhelmi Comitum Marischalli, Abred., 1635. Appears as witness to a Sasine in 1644. (Burgh Reg. of Sasines.)

163 ? John Ray.

M.A., 1625. Given by Kennedy under year 1641; but signs as Professor of Moral Philosophy (i.e., teacher of the tertian class), the Rectorial minute; also an Epitaph in the second Lachrymae, 1635; and a discharge of College accounts, 1st November, 1648. The Graduation theses of 1643, maintained under his presidency, are extant in the University Library; so that ere then the system of specialist professors must have been abandoned, and that of circulating regents introduced. Editor of Cicero's Epistolarum libri IV., Abred., 1630, 1665. "He made an excellent funeral Oration on King Charles the Martyr." (Cat. Scot. Writ. Spald., II., 142.)

163 ? William Blackhall.

M.A., 1631. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs as Professor of Logic an Epitaph in the second Lachrymae, 1635. Evidently succeeded Hugh Gordon. Deposed as a Catholic, 1642. (Spald., II., 102. Gordon's Scots Aff., III., 129.)

16 ? James Hay.

Given by Kennedy under year 1636. But Aidie, Blackhall, Ray, and Seton were then still in office. Tertian, 1618 [?].

16 ? John Menzies.

Promoted from a regency to the chair of Divinity, infra, and the second ministerial charge in Aberdeen, 1649, and to the incumbency of Greyfriars Church in the following year. Kennedy gives his name under the year 1633, but this cannot be correct, as in 1635-37 the four regencies were undoubtedly held by Aidie, Blackhall, Ray, and Seton. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1638 [?].

16 ? Andrew Youngson.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1645, but this is certainly wrong, for on 4th Oct., 1644, "Mr. Andrew Youngson, formerly a Regent in the Mar. Coll.," is elected a Regent at King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 56.) He "afterwards became a Papist and Jesuit, and a Professor at Madrid". (Knight.) He must have succeeded either Blackhall or Seton. "He wrote De Predestinatione." (Cat. Scot. Writ.) Bajan, 1635.

164 ? Patrick Sandilands.

M.A., King's Coll., 1643. Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1646, but the date is almost certainly wrong, for on 24th June of that year he is transferred to the Regency in King's College, vacated by Youngson. (Off. and Grad.) Afterwards Sub-Principal there: Theses of 1660 (Bodl.). (Morgan's Woodside, p. 159.)

164 ? Robert Forbes.

M.A., King's Coll., 1643. Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1656; but signs discharges of College accounts (together with John Ray, Robert Burnet, and James Chalmers), 1st November, 1648; and is mentioned in Buik of Reg. as having charge of Bajan class of 1648-49. His name appears (with those of Andrew Cant, Alexander Whyte, and George Meldrum) in sundry charters granted by the Caroline University, 1655-58; and (with William Meldrum, George Bannerman, and Thomas Paterson) he signs a tack to Marjory Jameson, 26th June, 1663. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. Mass. XII., 69.) He is named (with the same three) in a decret against Mitchell, 2nd Feb., 1664. On 24th October of that year he appears as a Regent at King's College, and is subsequently Canonist there. (Off. and Grad., p. 57.) Mar. Coll. Theses, 1656 (Bodl.), 1660 (Abd.); King's Coll. Theses, 1680, 1684. "He wrote a Logick Course of Philosophy." (Cat. Scot. Writ.)

164 ? Robert Burnet.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs College accounts, 1648, ut supra. "Continovit comoun procurator to Lambes 1650." Bajan, 1637.

164 ? James Chalmers.

M.A., King's Coll., 1645. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs College accounts, 1648, ut supra. This is the James Chalmers stated in Scott's Fasti (III., 508) to have been promoted in 1651 from a Regency in King's College to be Minister of New Machar. No such name occurs in the list of Regents of King's College. (Off. and Grad., p. 56.)

164 ? Andrew Cant.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1655; but is mentioned in the Buik of Reg. as having charge of the Magistrand class in 1649-50; and in charters of 1651-58. Theses for 1654 (Bodl.), and 1658 (Abd.). "He wrote a Physical Course of Philosophy, also De libero arbitrio." (Cat. Scot. Writ.) Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Liberton in 1659 (Scott's Fasti), and Principal of the University of Edinburgh in 1675 (Grant's Story). This was the son of the famous Andrew. He matriculated at Marischal College in 1640, infra. Joseph Robertson says of him (Deliciae Literariae, p. 25): "He lived to become a non-juring bishop". But the bishop was a third Andrew, son of the Regent's brother, Alexander. (Grub's Eccl. Hist., III., 387.)

16 ? Andrew Birnie.

Not in Kennedy's list. Signs feu charter to Walter Robertson, May, 1651; and an entry in T. C. Reg., lii., 372, 2nd February, 1653. Named in Accounts of 1652-53. Bajan, 1645.

165 ? Alexander White.

Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1655; but signs Charter to Walter Robertson, 1651, and entry in T. C. Reg., 1653; also sundry charters of 1655-58; and a list of books added in 1662 (Buik of Reg.). Theses for 1657 (Bodl.). (Geneal. Acct. of James Young, p. 192.) Bajan, 1646.

165 ? George Meldrum.

Succeeded Birnie. Signs charters in 1655-58. Theses for 1659 (Abd.). In that year he was promoted to be Minister of the second charge in Aberdeen. (Scott's Fasti.) Rector of Mar. Coll., p. 12. Professor of Divinity in the University of Edinburgh. (Grant's Story.) He published numerous Letters and Sermons in Edinburgh. Bajan, 1647.

16 ? John White [?].

Given by Kennedy under year 1660.

1660. William Meldrum.

M.A., 1654. Appears as Common Procurator in 1660. Signs list of books, 1662, and tack to Marjory Jameson, 1663. Named in decret against Mitchell, 1664. Present at Rectorial Election, March, 1665. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Auchterless, not later than 1671. (Scott's Fasti.)

166 ? George Bannerman.

M.A., King's Coll., 1659. Not in Kennedy's list. Named in Accounts, 1661. Present at Rectorial Election, March, 1665. A George Bennean is (with W. Paterson, A. Alexander, and R. Bruce) present at election of a bibliothecar on 5th March, 1667. (Copy of Min. in Burgh Ch. Ch., "College," C². 7.) The name is probably a slip for Bannerman.

166 ? Thomas Paterson.

M.A., 1658. Not in Kennedy's list. Signs tack to Marjory Jameson. Named in decret against Mitchell.

1663. Patrick Strachan.

Not in Kennedy's list. Presented to a regency in 1663, in succession to Robert Forbes, who nevertheless appears as a regent in 1664. Signs demission of office, 16th November, 1665, all differences between him and Principal Leslie being referred to Archbishop Sharp. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Professorships,"

- Nos. 4, 7, 8.) On 1st August of that year he had been condemned at a Rectorial Court for issuing "heterodox and profane theses . . . qlk became no christiane nor civill mane to mantaine, they altogether reflecting upon the fame of the Universitie, and being ane open floodget to murder, drunkenness and idolatrie". (Buik of Reg.) Bajan, 1657.
1664. John Gordon.
M.A., 1658. Not in Kennedy's list. Adm. in Accts., 1664-65. In 1664, Patrick Strachan complains that Gordon, "servant to Sir Robert Farquhar," has been admitted regent "in lew of the petitioner, being neither cited heard nor advertised of ther procedour much less sentenced or censured," and is "endeavouring in a most subdalous way to intrude himself in the place whereof the petitioner is yet in possession". (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Professorships," No. 4.) Present at Rectorial election, March, 1665.
1664. William Paterson.
Not in Kennedy's list. Adm. in Accts, 1664-65. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1665; and at election of bibliothecar, 5th March, 1667. In that year appointed to a regency in Edinburgh. Clerk to the Privy Council, 1679. (Dalziel's Hist.) Bajan, 1659.
- 166 ? Alexander Alexander.
Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1668, but present at election of bibliothecar, 5th March, 1667. Theses for 1669 (Abd.). Present at Rectorial elections in March, 1673, and March, 1674, but not 1675. Became Minister of Glass, 1679. (Scott's Fasti; Roger's House of Alexander.) Bajan, 1660.
- 166 ? Robert Bruce.
Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1668, but present at election of bibliothecar, 1667; also at Rectorial elections in 1673 and 1674, but not 1675. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Old Deer not later than 1676 (Scott's Fasti), probably in 1674, for in July of that year his place as a regent had been taken by John Farquhar. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. "Librarian". Cf. Nos. 4 and 6.) He is called "late regent" in an Instrument, Seaton divinity student agt. the Magistrates, 2nd July, 1674. (Burgh Ch. Ch. "College," C². 7.) Bajan, 1661.
1667. Thomas Gray.
Given by Kennedy as admitted in 1668; but is named as teacher of Bajan class, 1667, in Buik of Reg. Theses for 1673 (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch.). He is stated in them to be a grandson of Principal Gilbert Gray. He was present at the Rectorial election of that year, but not in 1674. It would appear from a paper in the Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch. ("Professorships," No. 5) that Gray taught the first class for three successive sessions, and thereafter "ascended" in the usual manner. The same Thos. Gray, "son to the deceased Provost Gray," acted as College Librarian in 1669-73. (T. C. Reg., lv., 158, 526.) Bajan, 1660.
1667. Robert Paterson.
Given by Kennedy under year 1669, but probably succeeded William Paterson in 1667. Teacher of Bajan class, 1671. (Buik of Reg.) Present at Rectorial elections, 1673 and 1674. Promoted to the Principalship, p. 28, 20th November, 1678, when he was succeeded by James Lorimer. Paterson was a younger son of John, Bishop of Ross. (Nisbet's Heraldry.) Bajan, 1661.

16 ? John Lorimer [?].

Given by Kennedy under year 1672; but this must be a blunder, as Alexander, Bruce, Gray, and R. Paterson were in office during that year.

1673. George Peacock.

Given by Kennedy under year 1675, but seems to have succeeded Gray. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1674. Teacher of Bajan class, 1673-74. (Buik of Reg.) Children: James, Mary, Elizabeth. (Poll Book of 1695.) Theses, 1689 (Bodl.), 1693 (Bodl.), 1697 (Glasg.), 1714 (Bodl.). Deprived of office in the political troubles, 1717, when he was succeeded by Patrick Hardie. Bajan, 1666.

1674. John Farquhar.

Given by Kennedy under year 1669, but this is manifestly a blunder, as he succeeded Robert Bruce, probably in 1674. Present at Rectorial election, March, 1675, and (with William Seaton) homologates Paterson's election as Librarian, in May of same year. (Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Librarian," No. 9.) Minister of Tron Church, Edinburgh, 1677. (Scott's Fasti.) Bajan, 1664.

1674. William Seaton.

Not in Kennedy's list. Succeeded Alexander Alexander, probably in 1674. Named in an Instrument, Magistrates agt. Seaton, 19th January, 1675. (Burgh Ch. Ch. "College," C². 7.) Bajan, 1667.

1675. Robert Farquhar.

Given by Kennedy under year 1676, but signs Charter to Burgh, 9th September, 1675 ("Mortifications," ii., 13). Succeeded John Farquhar. Present at Rectorial elections, 1679 and 1680. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Cullen, 1681 (Scott's Fasti), when he was succeeded by Thomas Burnett. Semi, 1665.

1675. John Patton.

M.A., 1669. Given by Kennedy under year 1676, but signs Charter to Burgh, 1675. Succeeded William Seaton. Present at Rectorial elections in 1679 and 1680. Taught Bajan class, 1680-81. Promoted from a regency to be Minister of Leochel, 1682 (Scott's Fasti), when he was succeeded by Alexander Litster.

1679, Jan. 16. James Lorimer, student of theologie.

In place of Robert Paterson, promoted to be Principal. Lorimer's is the first appointment of a regent recorded in the "Register of presentationes and admissionses of all principalles and maisters". The letter of presentation by George, eighth Earl Marischal, dated 15th January, is engrossed. The appointment is "for this present yeir of God underwritten and yeirlie in tyme coming during our pleasure and ay and quhill we shall declair his charge vaccant by writt under our own hand and the samen be intimat to him". The admitters are: Principal Robert Paterson, Regents George Peacock, John

- Patton, Robert Farquhar, Professor Duncan Liddell, Mr. Patrick Sibbald, parson of St. Nicholas, and Mr. Robert Bruce, minister at Old Deer. Bajan, 1670.
- 1681, October 27. Thomas Burnet, master of airts.
In place of Robert Farquhar, demitted. Promoted to a regency in Edinburgh, 1686, as a reward for representing (in Theses printed at Aberdeen in that year) the Reformation as a villainous rebellion, and asserting that the King of Scotland had the power of making and abrogating laws and imposing taxes without the consent of Parliament. In 1690, because of the very same Theses, he was deprived of his regency by the Commission of Visitation. (Minutes of Commn. in Reg. Ho.; Fountainhall's Decisions; Presbyterian Inquisition in Univ. of Edm.) Bajan, 1673.
- 1682, October 3. Alexander Litster, student of theologie.
In place of John Patton, demitted. Demitted 1693. Children: John, Alexander, Francis, Marjorie, Elizabeth (Poll Book). Bajan, 1667.
- 1683, July 25. Robert Keith, student of theologie.
"Sone to the deceist doctor William Keith, professor of theologie in Edinburgh." In place of James Lorimer. Theses, 1687 (Bodl.). For a reference to this Keith, see Fountainhall's Scottish Affairs, p. 248, where he is designated "of Lentosh". Bajan, 1668.
- 1686,¹ November 1. James Moir, student in divinitie.
"Lawfull sone to James Moir in Ferrihill." In place of Thomas Burnet, removed to the College of Edinburgh. Children: Agnes, Jean (Poll Book). Died 1713. Bajan, 1674.
- 1688, March 29. Alexander Moir, student of divinitie.
"Brother german to James Moir of Stoniewood." In place of Robert Keith. "A gentleman of great erudition and primitive simplicity of manners." "No wife, child, nor servant" (Poll Book). Theses, 1699 (Bodl.). Deprived in 1717. He went to Edinburgh, and kept a private Academy for sons of Jacobite nobility and gentry for several years. (Lettsom's Life, I.; Nichols' Lit. Anecd., I.; Family of Moir and Byres.) Tertian, 1684.
- 1693, December 5. William Smith.
Governour then to Charles Lord Hay. In place of Alexander Litster, demitted. "No wife, child, nor servant" (Poll Book). Author of the Oratio in qua inclytæ Academiae Marischallanae Abredonensis Nobilissimus Parens, Illustres Maecenates et Eximii Benefactores ad annum MDCXCVI commemorantur, Abred., 1701—so often quoted in Vol. I. Theses 1700, 1704, 1708 (Aberd.), and 1712 (Glasg.). Deprived in 1717.
- 1713, March 2. George Keith.
M.A., 1700. "Son to Sir William Keith of Ludquhairn, baronett." In place of James Moir, lately deceased. Summoned before the Presbytery of ¹ Kennedy has a John Keith, under this date, who does not appear in the Register; and Douglas (Peerage, ed. of 1813, II. p., 190) speaks of a "Professor Thomas Keith of the Marischal College"—equally unknown. See Scottish N. and Q., Jan. 1897.

Aberdeen, 27th Jan., 1714, for adultery with Anne Davidson, a married woman. Refused to appear, and was pronounced contumacious. On 10th November, his name was put on the roll of excommunicated persons. (Presb. Min.) This seems to have entailed loss of his regency.

1715, November 30. William Meston.

M.A., 1698. "Late Governour to the honourable Mr. James Keith brother german to the Earle Marischal." In place of George Keith, "lately removed from the said office". Several of the admitters were absent "by reason of the disorders of the times". Meston gave "a publick oration and a specimen in the Greek tongue". Deprived in 1717, he seems never to have actually taught, for in session 1715-16 "the Colledge was separat before the Lawes were read or the season of payment come" (Coll. Proc. Accts.), and in 1716, no classes assembled; but in 1729 he obtained from the Town Council payment of salary for period from Whitsunday, 1715, to Martinmas, 1716: £82 10s. Scots (T. C. Reg., lx., 85). The notice of Meston in Dict. Nat. Biog. is incorrect in several details. Cf. the sketch of him (by the present editor) in N. and Q., 7, X., 21, where a bibliography is attempted. Introduced in Allardyce's Balmoral.

1717, Sept. 30. Patrick Hardie.

In place of George Peacock, deprived. The King's commissions bear that each regent is to hold office "during all the dayes of his naturall life". Hardie died 1724.

1717, September 30. David Verner.

In place of Alexander Moir, deprived. Had studied law in Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow. Created LL.D. (p. 95), and in 1724 appointed to lecture on law. Theses, 1721 (Westburn), 1730 (Glasg.). Died 1752, aged 64. (Aberd. Journal, 28th Jan., 1752; Bower's Life of Beattie.)

1717, September 30. John Anderson.

In place of William Meston, deprived. Second son of Alexander Anderson of Bourtie. M.A., King's Coll., 1700. Died 1721.

1717, September 30. George Cruden.

In place of William Smith, deprived. Bajan, 1712. Died 1723.

1721, April 14. George Turnbull.

In place of John Anderson, deceased. Theses, 1726 (Aberd.). Author of Moral and Christian philosophy, Lond. 1740; Universal law, Lond. 1741; Collection of ancient paintings, Lond. 1744. LL.D., 1727, in which year he demitted office. See p. 95.

1723, September 6. Thomas Haddow, professor of Greek.

In place of George Cruden, deceased. This is the first mention in the Register of a regent allocated to the teaching of Greek. The Parliamentary Commission of Visitation appointed in 1690 had in 1700 issued an ordinance in the following terms:—

"At Edinburgh, the 16th day of August, 1700 years, the commissioners appointed by act of parliament for visitation of universities, colleges, and schools taking to their consideration that it would conduce much to the better learning, and for the improvement of the study of the Greek tongue, that the teacher of the same in the first of the four classes in use for Greek and philosophy in each university and college were fixed, and not ambulatory as now he is ; do therefore appoint and ordain that hereafter the said teacher of the Greek tongue be fixed, and continue still to teach the same in the said first class to all that shall come to learn under him from year to year, as constant master of the said Greek language, which he is hereby appointed to begin to teach at and after the first day of November through the whole year, untill the rising of the class by the ordinary vacation ; so that in all that space he is to teach only the Greek grammar and proper Greek authors, without teaching so much as any Structura Syllogismi, or any thing else belonging to the course of philosophy, which is only to be commenced the next year thereafter ; and this act and ordinance to take effect after the first of November next. Likeas, for the encouragement of the said fixed teacher of the Greek, it is hereby appointed that no scholar bred at schools in Scotland shall be admitted to learn philosophy, or any part of the course thereof, in any of the colleges and universities, unless that he have learned his Greek, at least for the ordinary year under the said fixed Greek master, and report an authentic certification thereon ; and this provision to take effect for and after the year 1701, and no sooner. And for the better executing this act it is farther enacted, that if there be at present any vacancy of any of the four ordinarily called masters or professors of philosophy in any of the said colleges and universities, the same shall be supplied in the ordinary manner by a fixed Greek master, who is to remain as said is, leaving the other three to ascend with their philosophy classes as use is ; and where there is no vacancy, the said fixed Greek master is for this time to be chosen by the faculty (that is the meeting of the rector, the professors and masters of each of the said colleges and universities) out of the masters, as the said faculty shall determine, which they are hereby ordained to do betwixt and the first day of October next. And the Greek master that shall be chosen hereby is ordained to obey without reclaiming, with this provision nevertheless for his encouragement, that it shall be in his option, upon any vacancy that happens of any of the said three philosophy masters in his college or university, to betake himself to his place without any new trial ; in which case the vacancy of the Greek master shall be supplied by one to be fixed as above. And the commission ordain letters and charges to be direct on this act as effects, and that the same be furthwith printed and sent to the several universities and colleges, that none may pretend ignorance."

On 26th February, 1701, the Principal and Regents wrote to the Clerk of the Commission :—" We did lykwayes give tymous obedience to the Act for settling ane Greek Master in the Colledges, and did nominate and elect Master Alexander Moir on of the Regents of this Colledge, to be ane fixed Greek Professor in all tyme coming, who has accepted that office in this Colledge. We do therfor intreat ye will represent this matter of fact to the Visitation, when they do take ane review of this matter, and show how readie compliance we have given heerin." (Records of Visitation in Gen. Reg. Ho.)

This appointment was sanctioned by the Commission, 14th January, 1702 ; but it appears not to have become operative, for the Album shows Alexander Moir in charge of the Magistrand class in sessions 1702-3, and 1706-7, as would have been the case under the old four-year cycle. When the four new regents were appointed in 1717, their commissions were in identical terms, but seemingly Cruden (whom Haddow is said to succeed) must soon thereafter have been set aside for the duties of a Greek chair. The admission on 8th Oct., 1717, of Matthew McKaile to the Professorship of Medicine (p. 55) he signs "Geo. Cruden, P[hilosophiae] P[rofessor]"; but the admission, on 14th April, 1721, of George Turnbull to a regency (p. 40) he signs "Geo. Cruden, L[iterarum] G[raecarum] P[rofessor]". If Cruden became Professor of Greek soon after 1717, a three-year cycle would have been set up for the other three Regents. See "Sequence of the Regents," Appx.

Haddow must have died soon after admission. He held a certificate "of good life and conversation" from Mr. John Cormack, minister of the Gospel, St. Andrews.

1723, December 13. Thomas Blackwell, professor of Greek.

In place of Haddow, deceased. Became also Principal in 1748, p. 29.

1724, Oct. 15. Daniel Gordon.

Student of theology, St. Andrews. In place of Patrick Hardie, deceased. Died 1729.

1727, July 25. William Duff.

In place of George Turnbull, demitted. Son of Hugh Duff, minister of Fearn, Ross-shire (Wimberley's Hosp. of Invs.), and M.A., King's Coll., 1721. Theses, 1732 (Aberd.).

In 1734 Duff had a lawsuit with his colleague, Thomas Blackwell. On Sunday, 7th January, "betwixt the hours of 2 and 3, in the College Church, during Divine Service, he jostled and pressed violently on Mr. Blackwell". Next day, when Blackwell was teaching in the Bajan Class, Duff sent William Fowler, sacrist, "to desire him to come out and speak to a gentleman," and struck him on the head with a staff which he had provided on purpose, "having come without his gown, which he had put off for that effect". Blackwell presented a "Complaint and Libell unto the Revd. Princip^l and Masters met in faculty," which Duff requested time to answer ; but the latter passed from one delay to another, and finally advocated the case to Edinburgh, on the plea that the Masters had no jurisdiction, and that two of their number had malice against him. It was agreed, however, to submit the matter to the Principal and Mr. Forbes, Sheriff Depute of Aberdeen, who settled it by a Decreet-Arbitral. A minute of Faculty was prepared in draft, in which Duff was to acknowledge the jurisdiction of the College, ask pardon for attacking its privileges, and receive a rebuke from the Principal. He was at first fully satisfied with this, and showed much impatience to have a meeting held, where it should be approved; but on this being done he refused to submit, and insisted upon his Bill of Advocation. The outcome of the proceedings has not been traced—(Mem. for Duff, 21st February; Pet. of Duff, 24th February; Answ. for Blackwell, 25th February; Answ. for Prin. and other Masters, 23rd July—printed papers in Town House Charter Room).

At a meeting of Faculty, held on 9th February, 1736, Duff is charged with neglect of duty and “with quarrelling upon slight and trivial occasions with one Master after the other, and raising litigious and expensive lawsuits, and with instigating the students to illegal and hurtful proceedings and undutiful conduct to their masters”. At Christmas vacation he had to go to Edinburgh, and did not return till 6th January (the vacation ending on the 1st); neglected his duty as Hebdomader; refused to preside at the public disputes; and on 3rd February again went to Edinburgh, appointing an assistant without asking leave of the College. Blackwell states that he had raised criminal actions against all his colleagues, and calls him “that strange unhappy man”.

1st March, 1736.—Duff protests in violent language, styling the minute of 9th February “a pretended calumnious unsigned lybel,” of which a copy was refused him.

10th March, 1737.—At a Rectorial meeting the Principal informs the Court that he has, with advice and consent of the Faculty, given to Regent Duff two admonitions for neglect of duty and other irregularities. The Court authorise the Principal to give him forthwith the third and last admonition, in terms of the Foundation Charter.

At subsequent meetings evidence is given of Duff's non-attendance at College for two years: Drs. Campbell and Glennie, then students, being among the witnesses. On 20th January, 1738, sentence of expulsion is formally pronounced, Duff being “extruded forth and from the said University and Marischall College, and his said office and employment declared void and vacant and at his Majesty's gift and disposal as patron of the foresaid University”. (Papers in Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., “Rectors and Rectorial Courts”.)

Duff went to London, where he published The Case of William Duff, Professor of Philosophy in the Marischal University of Aberdeen: Showing the Barbarous Treatment of an Honest Family, 1739; and A History of Scotland, Vol. I. (all publ.) 1750 (with author's portrait).

1729, Novemb. 25. Dr. Matthew McKail.

Previously Professor of Medicine, p. 55. In place of Daniel Gordon, deceased. Some objection seems to have been taken to the admission of McKail, as only three admitters sign. He delivers a discourse “On the connexion and difference betwixt the atomic or Copernican and the Newtonian philosophy”. Died 1733.

1734, March 26. Francis Skene.

Son of George Skene, minister of Kinkell (Skene Memorials). M.A. King's Coll., 1721. In place of McKail, on whose death it had been proposed to revert to the plan of the Founder, and assign the three higher classes to particular masters, Verner to take the semis, Duff the magistrands, and McKail's successor the tertians. But Skene petitioned against this (Min. of 28th June), and his objections were sustained. When the new plan was adopted in 1753, he was assigned the Semis Class. LL.D., 1766, when he is also made "Professor of Laws" (cf. Min. of 26th Nov., 1760). Died 1775. Portrait in possession of University.

1739, April 10. Alexander Innes.

Great grandson of David Gregory of Kinnairdie (Off. and Grad., p. 37). M.A., 1732. Had acted as substitute during William Duff's absence, sessions 1736-7, 1737-8, 1738-9. After Duff's deposition on 20th January, 1738, the Rector, Principal and Masters appear to have pressed Innes' claims on the Chancellor, Lord Ilay, but without effect until January, 1739, when he recommends them to apply to the Duke of Newcastle. This they do, 19th January, calling his attention to "the melancholy situation of our Colledge"; but at the same time resolve "to fix a Program to the College and kirk doors [cf. Vol. I., p. 45] within a few days in order to secure their privilidges". The Duke "making farther delays and offsets," they resolve, 2nd March, to act on the program, and seek the concurrence of the Magistrates in case the election should be called in question. On 19th March, the edict is duly "called," but no candidates appear, and they intimate to Lord Ilay that they have put off the election till 10th April, hoping to hear from him. On that day, having no letter, they elect Mr. Innes. It is claimed that this is competent, from there having been no presentation notified, although a year had elapsed since the vacancy had been intimated to the Crown, from no answer to letters having been received, from the loss sustained by the College in wanting a Regent, and from the terms of the Foundation Charter. Lord Ilay writes on 23rd April that he had received the communication of 7th March on 20th April. "It seems instead of sending it by the Post, it came by somebody who took France in his way." He chides the Faculty for not transmitting to Government a regular copy of the proceedings against Duff, wonders "a learned body did not better apprehend the meaning of such notification," and send the causes of deposition, instead of writing, "in no other stile than if Duff had been dead". The Crown ought to have known the whole, as a mark of respect, the office being one for life. Duff, he adds, "has been a considerable time about town making a noise in all the offices and in every place where he could have access". After this scolding, Lord Ilay becomes kinder, and says that he has taken their part, and told everybody that "Duff's long stay in this London and the unaccountable turn of his temper made it highly probable that the Faculty had done nothing but justice". Blackwell's reply is a humble palinode, requesting a presentation for Innes. It does not appear that this was ever sent.

We learn from a Memorial to the Barons of the Exchequer that Innes "was so generous as to permit the emoluments of the class [1736-39] to go to the support of Mr. Duff's unhappy relinquished family". He died in 1742. (Coll.

Min.; Papers in Mar. Coll. Ch. Ch., "Rectors"; Alexis, a pastoral to the memory of Alexander Innes, Aberd., 1744.)

1742, Sept. 9. David Fordyce.

The second of Provost George Fordyce's twenty children, and through his mother a relative of Principal Blackwell. M.A., 1728. Preacher of the gospel: no parish. Was recommended by the College to the Crown, in place of Innes. In 1750 got leave of absence and visited Rome: in returning, 1751, was drowned off the coast of Holland. Portrait at Brucklay Castle. Author of Dialogues concerning education, Lond., 1745; Theodorus, 1752; Moral philosophy, Lond., 1754; Temple of virtue, Lond., 1757; British letter-writer, Lond., 1790. (Dingwall Fordyce Fam. Rec.)

1752, July 7. Alexander Gerard.

Son of deceased Gilbert Gerard, minister of Chapel of Garioch. M.A., 1744. Commission dated 18th May. In place of Fordyce, for whom he had acted as substitute, sessions 1750-1 and 1751-2. Demitted 1760, on becoming Professor of Divinity and minister of Greyfriars. D.D., King's Coll., 1761. Moderator of Gen. Assembly, 1764. Professor of Divinity, King's Coll., 1771. Died 1795. Was instrumental in bringing about the fixing of the Classes in 1753. In 1755 his Plan of Education in the Marischal Coll. and University of Aberdeen, with the reasons of it, was printed by order of the Faculty. (German translation pubd. at Riga, 1770. See also George Kerr's Examination of a pamphlet entitled 'Plan of Education, etc.', Aberd., 1826.) His other works are well known. Married, 14th June, 1757, Jean Wight, with issue: Marjory (m. Patrick Campbell of Stracathro), Gilbert (his successor at King's Coll.), Alexander, John, Jane, and Margaret Helen (m. James Cruickshank of Langley Park). Portrait in possession of University. Together with James Beattie, George Campbell, John Gregory, Thomas Reid, and David Skene, founded the Philosophical Society of Aberdeen. (See Macmillan's Mag. for Sept., 1863.)

1753, Aug. 21. William Duncan.

In place of Verner. Son of deceased William Duncan of Atrochy. M.A., 1735. Had attended some divinity classes, but became a professional author in London. Commission dated, like Gerard's, 18th May, 1752, but on 1st Nov., certified by two physicians to be unable to undertake the journey to Aberdeen, and David Burn, preacher of the Gospel, appointed to conduct his class. Drowned while bathing, 12th May, 1760. Author of Logic (in Dodsley's "Preceptor"), Lond., 1748, etc.; Cæsar's Commentaries, trans., Lond., 1753, etc.; Discourse on Roman art of war, Lond., 1755; editions of Greek New Test. and Ainsworth's Latin Dictionary; Cicero's Select Orations, trans., Lond., 1771; also probably of Vol. II. of Watson's Horace, and of several translations from the French. (Biog. sketch, not very accurate, in Scottish Register, Vol. I.)

By minute of Senatus, of date 11th January, 1753, the subjects and classes had been fixed as follows:—

- Francis Skene, professor of Civil and Natural History (semis).
- William Duncan, professor of Natural Philosophy (tertians).

1753, Aug. 21. Alexander Gerard, professor of Moral Philosophy and Logic (magistrands).

A programme of the classes as thus arranged appeared in the Aberdeen Journal of 2nd Oct. The King's College professors, while adopting the altered sequence of subjects, adhered to the old system of circulating regents. This, it is understood, was due to the authority of Dr. Thomas Reid, who gave it a decided preference. The grounds on which so enlightened a teacher defended a practice that once extensively prevailed are interesting. The minutes embodying them are quoted in the present editor's Arts Curriculum, Aberd., 1892, p. 13. See also Abstract of some orders and statutes of King's College, Aberd., 1753.

PROFESSORS OF CHEMISTRY.¹

1793, Dec. 14. George French.

Son of John French, advocate, and Christian, dau. of Thomas Blackwell, 9th Principal. M.D., 1786. Physician in Aberdeen. Designated first professor in the will of Mrs. Blackwell, widow of his uncle, the 11th Principal. Married, Sarah Wellard, with issue: Christian Julia (m. Charles Ross, merchant). 1833, Nov. 12. Thomas Clark.

M.D., Glasg., 1831. This appointment caused much dissension. By Mrs. Blackwell's deed of Foundation the Principal and professors were directed to fill up vacancies by a comparative trial of candidates, but on 21st Sept., 1827, the Commissioners of 1826 expressed doubt as to the right of the principal and professors to nominate, and directed them, in the event of a vacancy therein, to intimate the same to the Commission if then in force. Intimation was sent to the Secretary, but the Commissioners proved to have transmitted their final report, and the faculty accordingly advertised the vacancy, and examiners were selected—Professor Thomson, Glasgow; Rev. A. J. Forsyth, Belhelvie; Professors Davidson, Skene, and Knight. Three candidates appeared: Thomas Clark, William Henderson, M.A., M.D. (who had acted as assistant to Professor French, and was afterwards Lecturer on Materia Medica), and William Laing, M.A., M.D. (afterwards Lecturer on Surgery). It was, however, objected that Clark being only M.D., had not undergone the "regular academical education" required by the "deed of foundation," and his admission as a candidate was carried only by the casting vote of the Principal; Professors Black, Glennie, Knight and Brown voting against him. Prof. Knight thereupon declined to act as Examiner. On the conclusion of the examination, which lasted for three days, the examiners reported unanimously in favour of Clark. (Lengthy Minutes, 20th Aug. to 12th Nov., printed in Appx. to Second Report of 1836-37 Commissioners, pp. 212-220.) In session 1842-43, Clark's health gave way, and, excepting a few 1845-47. Professor Andrew Fyfe, of King's College.

1847-52. John Smith, M.A., 1843; M.D., 1844; LL.D., 1876. Afterwards Professor of Physics and Chemistry, University of Sydney.

1852. James Smith Brazier. Also substitute for Professor Fyfe in 1854, and succeeded him as Professor of Chemistry in the University of Aberdeen in 1862.

Notwithstanding his persistent ill-health, Clark was able to devote considerable attention to subjects of diverse character; Water tests, University tests, English style, Spelling reform, Historical origin of the Gospels; on which he issued numerous pamphlets. He made himself useful to the College in the struggles that ended in the union of 1860. He married, 6th Febr., 1849, Mary McEwen, with issue: Thomas (died young). ¹ "MARISCHAL COLLEGE, 3rd April, 1818.

"It being suggested to the Faculty that a Medical School on an extended plan, and under the patronage of both Universities, might now be established; they unanimously approve of the measure, and desire their Clerk to write a letter to the Principal and Professors of King's College, requesting a meeting with them, to take the proposal into consideration and, if approved of, to take the necessary steps for carrying it into effect."

"MARISCHAL COLLEGE, 19th May, 1818.

"The Report of the Committee of both Colleges relative to the appointment of Medical Lecturers having been laid before the Faculty and read, they unanimously approve of the same and order it to be recorded in their minutes, whereof the tenor follows:—

"Aberdeen, May 16, 1818.—At a Meeting of the Committees of King's and Marischal Colleges, to arrange a plan for the establishment of a Medical School, held at Marischal College, 16th May, the following regulations were suggested, as most consistent with the constitution of the Colleges, and best adapted to promote the institution, which, under the joint patronage of the two Universities, may attain a greater character, and be more extensively useful, than it could if only supported by one of them.

"1. Both Universities to have equal power over the Medical School.

"2. Courses of Lectures to be given, during the Winter Session, on the following subjects:—Anatomy, Animal Economy, Surgery, Practice of Physic, Theory of Physic, Materia Medica, Clinical Medicine, and Midwifery, and a course of Lectures on Botany during the Summer.

"3. Lecturers on these subjects to be appointed or confirmed before the ensuing Session, or when the state of the School shall be thought to require this nomination.

"4. As the appointment of the Lecturers by a general meeting of both Colleges, having no corporate capacity, might not be deemed valid by the separate Faculties, it is proposed that the nomination to the Lectureships shall belong alternately to each, neither appointing twice successively to the same Lectureship, and that the appointment thus made by one College shall be confirmed by the other; both Faculties entering a regulation in their minutes, binding themselves to this mode of alternate nomination and mutual confirmation.

"5. Lecturers having been named by Marischal College on Anatomy, Surgery, and Materia Medica, before the present plan of joint patronage was thought of, it is recommended that these appointments should in the meantime be confirmed by King's College, and that the first nomination to the vacant Lectureships should proceed from the Faculty of King's College, and be confirmed by Marischal College.

"6. In case the Professors of Medicine of the Colleges should at any time wish to give Courses of Lectures, it will be advisable to reserve the Theory and Practice of Physic for them, the choice of either subject lying with the Professor that first undertakes the duty of lecturing. The appointment of Lecturers on these subjects may therefore be considered as ad interim.

"7. Should any of the Lecturers allow a Session to pass without giving a regular Course, his appointment is to be declared void, unless he shall have been prevented from doing so by bad health, or such reasons as may be deemed satisfactory by the College with which the next nomination to his lectureship lies.

"8. After the first nominations, when a vacancy is to be supplied in any of the established Courses, the College whose turn it is shall appoint a Lecturer within six months after the vacancy has occurred; two meetings of the Faculty having been held, at a month's interval, to consider the best mode of supplying it, and the claims of different candidates.

"9. To facilitate the arrangements necessary in opening and conducting the different Courses, it is recommended that a Standing Committee be appointed by each of the Faculties, to co-operate in superintending and promoting the objects of the Institution; and that a Report of the state of the Medical School be made at least once a year, by this Joint Committee, to a General Meeting of the Faculties of both Universities."

He began Nov. 4 and their ruffing, which he mistook for applause, made him end 12 March, giving only 58 meetings, of which only 41 available in a certificate, 17 being examinations. He had been absent 27 times, besides raising his fee from 2 to 3 guineas. The action before Sheriff Watson amuses the public and frightens him; he resumes teaching, gets the Principal to go with him to his class, where Dewar blames him in his own presence. In April he terminates, turns restive, and sends long letters to the Senatus, wishing to know whether they account his course complete now : to which such answers as they deserved were sent. ¹ On 4th October, 1838, the Senatus of King's College declined to consent to the appearance of the advertisement of the classes of the Joint Medical School which had been annually sanctioned for the twelve preceding years. This refusal was mainly based on the contention that the King's College Senatus should have been consulted as to the amount of accommodation allotted to Medical Classes in the new buildings of Marischal College, in terms of Article 10 in the agreement entered into by the Universities in 1818, as recorded in the Minutes of King's College, on 6th July of that year, viz. :—

"10. An equal number of classes to be taught at each University, if required, and deemed expedient by either. In the mean time, as a room has been built at Marischal College for the Anatomical Lectures, and as great difficulties attending the due supply of preparations, etc., would be increased, by changing the place of teaching, the Anatomical Course may be given at Marischal College—the other Courses at King's or Marischal Colleges, as may be agreed on by the Committee."

This entry did not appear in the corresponding Marischal College Minute of 19th May, 1818, but was duly intimated by King's College to the Commissioners of 1826-30. (Evidence, IV., 180.)

On 20th November, 1838, Mar. Coll. resolved to enquire of King's Coll. "whether they possess any original paper from which the regulations in their minute of 6th July, 1818, were copied". King's Coll. not unnaturally resented this enquiry as equivalent to demanding a proof that their records "had not been vitiated". A copy of the ten regulations in the handwriting of Dr. Skene was produced by King's Coll.; but "only two gentlemen who had a share in the business of this [Marischal] University in 1818 are now alive and their recollections do not supply any information respecting the tenth article".

On 11th April, 1839, the King's Coll. Senatus unanimously resolved "that all connection with the Marischal College in reference to the Medical School shall cease from and after the close of the Session," it being "inexpedient and even dangerous to maintain any further intercourse with Marischal College respecting the Medical School, when the letter and spirit of the original agreement have been so palpably violated". The Mar. Coll. Senatus, while denying "the allegation that they have violated either the letter or the spirit of the original agreement," and finding "a much nearer resemblance to a violation of that agreement in the refusal by members of King's College or its Senatus to sanction the usual advertisement of the Medical Classes," unanimously resolved, on 11th July, "that the agreement entered into by the two Colleges in 1818 in regard to the Medical School and all the arrangements depending upon that agreement are terminated". Extracts from their Records were printed by both Colleges.

John Davidson appears, 1688-1720, as "porter," a term now used to denote the sacrist's subordinate; so Alexander Brebner, under-porter, 1706-20, and porter, 1720-47. John Gibb, porter, 1747-53. The reign of John Cooper and John Colvin extended over fifty-four years; that of John Thomson, John Smith, and John Begg, at King's College, over sixty-six years; so that the name John came to be regarded as a generic vocative for all college servants.
